Transition from School to Adult Life - Time Lines

The provisions of this act became effective on July 1, 2005.

• Beginning not later than the first IEP to be in effect when the child is 16 and updated annually thereafter, the IEP must include:

  1) Appropriate measurable postsecondary goals based upon age-appropriate transition assessments related to training, education, employment and, where appropriate, independent living skills;

  2) The transition services (including courses of study) needed to assist the child in reaching those goals; and

  3) Beginning not later than one year before the child reaches the age of majority under state law, a statement that the child has been informed of the child’s rights under IDEA, if any, that will transfer to the child on reaching the age of majority under Section 615(m).

• The purpose of IDEA is to ensure that all children with disabilities have available to them a free appropriate public education (FAPE) that emphasized special education and related services designed to meet their unique needs and prepare them for further education, employment, and independent living. [601 (d)(1)(A)]

• The term “transition services” means a coordinated set of activities for a child with a disability that:

  1) Is designed to be within a results-oriented process, that is focused on improving the academic and functional achievement of the child with a disability to facilitate the child’s movement from school to post-school activities, including postsecondary education; vocational education; integrated employment (including supported employment); continuing and adult education; adult services; independent living or community participation;

  2) Is based on the individual child’s needs, taking into account the child’s strengths, preferences, and interests; and

  3) Includes instruction, related services, community experiences, the development of employment and other post-school adult living objectives and, when appropriate, acquisition of daily living skills and functional vocational evaluation. [602(34)]

In addition, Massachusetts has a transition law, Chapter 688, also known as “Turning 22.” The law requires the school special education administrator to make a referral for eligible students with disabilities to an adult service agency, which it deems to be the most appropriate agency to serve the student after special education ends. Chapter 688 requires that an Individual Transition Plan (ITP) be developed for eligible students, which describes the types of programs and supports the individual will need upon leaving special education.

What is transition?

Transition is about planning for life!

The transition your son or daughter will make from school to adult life in the community is a long journey. This journey can be difficult for anyone, but for a child with a disability, determining where to go, the best way to get there, and then completing the journey can be especially challenging. This is why it is so important for you to think, as early as possible, about the important steps your child will need to make and to develop a plan for his/her future.

There are federal and state laws that guide the delivery of transitional educational services to children with disabilities. It is important for parents to understand these laws.
What can parents do to prepare for their child’s transition?

The road leading to a successful transition from childhood to adulthood should begin much earlier than the teenage years. It starts when children learn about themselves, their strengths and weaknesses and, so doing, begin to value themselves. It ends when, as adults, these same children can take control over choices and decisions that impact their lives and take responsibility for their actions. This is called Self-Determination. (Davis & Wehmeyer, undated).

Age 13, 14 & 15:
- Talk about the value of work and teach behaviors that develop employment potential.
- Provide opportunities to see people at work in different settings.
- Allow as much independence as possible; assign responsibility for certain chores to help instill a positive work ethic.
- Teach money management skills along with shopping experiences and banking skills.
- Promote appropriate behavior at home and in social situations.
- Provide opportunities to make choices and decisions, to explore and take risks, and to learn from experiences of success and failure.
- Assist in good grooming skills and emphasize the importance of physical fitness.

Age 16:
- Think about volunteer job opportunities in the community, paper routes, or other ways to develop job skills.
- Attend parent workshops on Transition to become informed about the process of Transition Planning.
- Help your child to become a self-advocate.
- Continue these activities throughout their teen years.

Age 17:
- Develop a long-term plan (5 year) to cover educational, vocational, community experiences and independent living skills.
- If you are planning to apply for Social Security Insurance (SSI), get information about eligibility. Students who have assets exceeding $2,000 are not eligible for SSI benefits. Consult an attorney or financial planner about a special needs trust or other arrangement that will protect eligibility for benefits.
- Investigate the need for guardianship and other options for legal protection. At age 18, all people are presumed to be legally competent to make all life decisions. Age of Majority Guardianship is a legal procedure requiring a clinical evaluation and a petition to the probate court. Not all individuals need to have a guardian, and less intrusive alternatives may be preferable. These include power of attorney, health care proxy, and conservatorship.
- Have interest surveys and vocational assessments done to determine interests and abilities.

Age 18:
- Apply for SSI/Mass Health. If SSI eligible, an individual will automatically be eligible for MassHealth. If not eligible for SSI, apply separately to the Division of Medical Assistance for MassHealth.
- Help your child actively participate in his/her IEP meeting. He/she should be part of planning their learning and life goals.
- Apply for Section 8 Housing Vouchers.
- Make sure emphasis on IEP is on post-school goals that will make the biggest differences in the life of your child.
- Understand Age of Majority.
- Register men for Selective Service.
- Determine eligibility for adult services through the Department of Developmental Services, Department of Mental Health, Mass. Commission for the Blind, and Mass. Rehabilitation Commission.
- Have your child register to vote.
- Make sure your child has some work experience.
- Network with other families who have been through the Transition process.

Age 19:
- By age 19 (or 2 years prior to terminating special education), the school special education administrator will make a Chapter 688 referral to the appropriate human service agency to serve the student as an adult. Individuals who receive Social Security/Social Security Disability Insurance (SSDI) are automatically eligible for Chapter 688, others must go through an eligibility determination process.

Age 20:
- By age 20 (or 2 years prior to terminating special education), the school special education administrator initiates a Chapter 688 referral to the appropriate human service agency to serve the student as an adult. Individuals who receive Social Security/Social Security Disability Insurance (SSDI) are automatically eligible for Chapter 688, others must go through an eligibility determination process.

Age 21:
- By age 20 (or 2 years prior to terminating special education), the Chapter 688 Liaison from the human service agency convenes the ITP meeting where the plan is developed. The student, family, school team, and any involved adult service agencies need to think about the programs and support needed (short-term, 1-2 years) when the student leaves school. The Chapter 688 Liaison is responsible for writing the ITP and submitting it to the Transitional Advisory Committee (TAC), which must approve, modify or reject the ITP. The TAC decision can be appealed by the student/parent.
- Visit different residential and day programs that provide services and supports.
- Try to ensure your child has had either an after-school job or weekend job with pay.
- Make sure your child has REAL work experiences in the community with local businesses.
- Find an adult primary physician and dentist.

Age 21½:
- 3 to 5 months before graduation, the student/family should call DDS (or other adult agency) office area to see if a service coordinator has been assigned and is beginning to develop his/her adult services.

Age 22:
- Transition from school to adult services should be complete. Adult services are not an entitlement. Adult services are based on availability and are subject to funding by the legislature.

Other Things Parents Can Do
- Consider the skills that your child needs for a meaningful and purposeful life and be sure that these are included in the child’s IEP at the appropriate school level.
- Encourage your child to develop gradual independence in all areas of life including self-care activities, money management, decision-making and travel in the community.
- Attend parent training on transition and be informed about the process of transition planning and the law.
